Claims 1-10 (cancelled).

Claim 11 (new). A motor vehicle having a movable hatchback, comprising:

at least one roof panel;

a first roof member positioned at a first side of the vehicle and a second roof member positioned at second side of the vehicle, each of the roof members having a back section extending to a rear of the vehicle;

a first side frame part positioned at the first side of the vehicle and a second side frame part positioned at the second side of the vehicle; and a rear window capable of being positioned between the first and second side frame parts, wherein the first side frame part is positioned against the back section of the first roof member and the second side frame part is positioned against the back section of the second roof member such that the first and second side frame parts form a part of the external surface of the vehicle when the hatchback is in a closed position, and during an opened position, a portion of the hatchback is moved opposite the direction of travel and opens up a passageway for allowing the at least one roof panel to be lowered into the body of the vehicle to an area covered when the hatchback is in the closed position.

Claim 12 (new). The motor vehicle according to claim 11, wherein the passageway allowing the at least one roof panel to be lowered into the body of the vehicle is expanded in a transverse direction to an inner width between the first and second roof members.

Claim 13 (new). The motor vehicle according to claim 12, wherein an inner edge of the first and second roof members and an inner edge of the first and second side frame parts lie flush in succession when the rear window is in a disengaged position and that hatchback is in the closed position.

Claim 14 (new). The motor vehicle according to claim 13, wherein the at least one roof panel is capable of being stored in body of the vehicle when the hatchback is in the closed position with the rear window positioned between the first and second side frame parts.

Claim 15 (new). The motor vehicle according to claim 14, wherein a length of the passageway in the vehicle longitudinal direction is at least 20 cm.
